

Saying goodbye when you move.

It can be sad to say goodbye to people when you move.

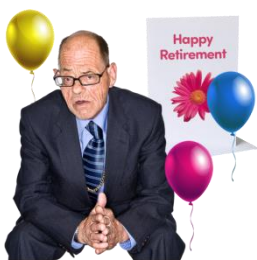

It's important not to underestimate how hard this can be.

Even if you are looking forward to moving.

Here are some ideas of how you can say goodbye:

Have a farewell party.

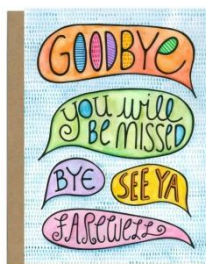

Make a photo album.

Put a favourite photo in a frame for your new place.

Make a memory book.

Ask people to write down a memory of your time together

Make goodbye cards for people who you are leaving.

You could write the things that you will miss about them.
