

Social History of Learning Disability Conference

Sam, Louisa, Kirsty and Silvana from Making Positive Moves attended the Social History of Learning Disability conference

The day started with a conversation about people with learning disabilities often not being included, especially in the past

But there has been a lot of work by people with learning disabilities to make their own communities

This helps people feel they belong to something

Communities will look different for everyone

Lots of different groups shared their own experiences of what communities mean and this was based on what people with learning disabilities have told them

Some of the stories that people shared were difficult to listen to and upsetting

But it was important to hear people's experiences and stories

As well as all of the work that is being done to support people with learning disabilities to be involved in their own community

We would love to hear from you if you have any comments or want to share any of your thoughts.

You can contact us on social media:
Facebook (Making Positive Moves), Twitter (@moves_positive) and Instagram (@makingpositivemoves).

You can also email us at:
hello@makingpositivemoves.org